

CHAIRMAN STONER OFFERS RESIGNATION
Wants to Quit Council When $18,000 Bond Issue is Voted Down.
WANTED NEW FIRE HOUSE
Also Auto Hose Wagon That Would Go "Straight Up"—Solicitor Renner Given Rebuttal—McCormick Pleads in Vain for Roll Call—Echo of McGinnis Men House House.

For the first time within the memory of the present generation a member of Town Council last evening tendered his resignation out of place. Chairman C. M. Stoner of the Public Safety Committee offered his resignation orally upon the failure of that body to endorse a proposed $18,000 bond issue for the purpose of building a new fire house, purchasing an automobile chemical wagon and 2,000 feet of new hose. Practically all the Councilmen admit the necessity of new quarters for the firemen, quite a few want to see improved fire fighting apparatus and there is no opposition to the purchase of hose, but few were willing to act on the spur of the moment by directing the preparation of a bond ordinance upon such short notice.

Mr. Stoner's resignation was not accepted, although Minority Leader McCormick and a few of his supporters favored acceptance. It, and after a long discussion regarding the merits of a matter that had already been disposed of by a vote it was decided to continue the debate at the next meeting.

The regular meeting last night developed quite a few other interesting features. Borough Solicitor J. K. Renner was rebuffed when Council voted to accept the acceptance of the railroad to the station, recently passed despite Solicitor Renner's report that he was not entirely satisfied with the wording of the communications. After a fruitless parliamentary filibuster on the part of Minority Leader McCormick and his effort to have the roll called and the vote recorded, Council voted adversely to Renner's report and after the smoke of battle cleared away it was stated for the first time that Solicitor J. K. Renner had been rebuffed by the Council.

Army Inspection of Company D Was Especially Rigid Last Night.
The most minute inspection yet held was given Company D and the Tenth regiment last night in the Armory by Captain Albert G. Dalton, U. S. A.

It was the annual regular army inspection and the guardsmen will remember it for some time to come. Not a detail was overlooked from the least on the rifle range to the conditions of the company room and each piece inspected separately, down to the condition of the knives and forks.

A surprise was sprung on the non-commissioned officers when Captain Dalton insisted that they put the company through the paces. After Captain Dalton and Lieut. James H. Harkness had drilled the men, the sergeants were directed to do likewise, while the corporals put their squads through the paces. The unexpected inspection along with the other officers unprepared and they demonstrated a wonderful deficiency of tactical knowledge.

taxpayers are paying 1 1/2 per cent. too much on money that had to be borrowed to satisfy lenders' creditors. There wasn't a dull minute during the meeting save while Clerk A. O. Hixler read the minutes. Solicitor Renner complained of feeling badly. The elaborate details of the minutes he read did not indicate there was only one correction. Councilman Brown supplied the exact number of cents to the cost of the house house W. D. McGinnis had been requested to pay for. The house house did not come up for consideration at any time during the meeting, strange to say, though Minority Leader Bill McCormick tried to get a reporter to agitate it.

Burgess Evans explained the dog situation and requested that the highest amount of responsibility for enforcing the quarantine. Chairman Stoner of the Public Safety Committee was authorized to purchase the necessary dog nets and employ two men to round up the stray dogs after the quarantine becomes effective.

The proceedings at this point were interrupted by the entrance of a Salvation Army representative who passed the tambourine and caught Councilman McCormick with nothing less than half a dollar. He still has it. President Millard invited Mrs. Hammet to call again at the next meeting.

S. M. May requested that the borough hall ashes for the walk along Arch street from Cedar avenue to the Young brewery. The matter was referred to the Street Committee with instructions to act. The Street Committee by the way had forgotten Arch street was on the map.

D. T. Hirtman's remarks regarding a light to be moved on Francis street brought up the question of a large house that thoroughfare which liege the sidewalk in darkness. The matter was referred to the Light Committee.

At this point Barrister Renner presented the railroad acceptance and a warm debate ensued between Renner and Friel, the latter arguing the Barriester should have returned the documents for correction before presenting them to Council and Renner taking the opposite view. After a long argument participated in by a number of Councilmen the acceptance was accepted by a vote of 10 to 7.

A delegation of Socialists, none what larger than usual, witnessed the proceedings. W. C. Jones was asked whether the water contract would be considered and was assured it would not be.

Minority Leader McCormick started something on streets. Chairman May had nothing to report as usual, but McCormick asked why streets had been torn up and the bricks not replaced at various points, mentioning two points on Main street, together with the present condition of North alley and Pittsburgh street. The Mayor stated the borough was waiting for the weather to improve. McCormick said it had been the case in the past always to replace brick and then go over the work later and put it in condition. Councilman Hirtman rose and started a pole on Ninth street. West Side, that has been placed a foot or more from the curb line. Councilman Friel tried to put these matters up to the Burgess but President Millard interjected with orders to act. A motion was passed directing Contractor Deragon to get busy on Apple street and the West Side hill.

Under the head of water, the communication of the Chamber of Commerce referring to Council the report of the Underwriters' Association was turned over to the Water Committee. Councilman Stoner launched his proposed bond issue. It lost by a 7 to 5 vote. Councilman McCormick declared a hook and ladder wagon in greater need than any of the improvements suggested. McCormick also opposed the introduction of an automobile but Stoner was strong for that. He declared an automobile didn't act when it wasn't working.

"Start it up one of these hills and it'll stall," remarked McCormick. "You get a 100-horsepower automobile and it will go straight up," roared Stoner.

COMPANIONS COME TO RESCUE
Recover Bodies of Five Who Died and Take Out Sixteen Seriously Injured.
Previously Rescued 30 Frigorous Girls.

United Press Telegram.
MILWAUKEE, Wis., March 24.—Hurled into the furnace of a blazing fire story building, six firemen were killed and 16 badly hurt here today. Five of the injured are expected to die.

Practically the entire Milwaukee fire department was at work on the blaze in the plant of the Middleton Manufacturing Company. A company of firemen was at work on the roof of the building when, without warning, the walls, undermined by the flames, gave way and the entire roof, with about 20 firemen, was precipitated into the flames.

Comrades of the firemen, armed with hooks and axes, attacked the heap of blazing debris. Guided by the firemen who had been rescued, they hauled the dead and injured. Twenty minutes before the crash came the firemen had succeeded in carrying from the upper floors 30 name stricken girls.

The fire originated from an unknown cause among combustible material stored in the basement of the plant. The damage to the Middleton company was estimated at $100,000.

Joseph A. Mason Optimistic; Business Outlook Never Better.
Real Estate Agent Joseph A. Mason stated today that there are more inquiries for houses in Connellsville than he has ever known before. He also declared that he does not know of a single modern house that is for rent.

He should be 50 or 60. Modernized period houses created here during the coming summer, he declared.

Mr. Mason believes the business outlook was never brighter and this is reflected by the condition of the realty market. Last year over 1,000 lots changed hands, not including those purchased by the Western Maryland and Pittsburgh & Lake Erie railroads. He says it is reasonable to expect that many of these lots will be built upon.

Reaching 120 houses in Connellsville, Mr. Mason says he does not know of a single tenant who contemplates vacating. On the other hand many of these tenants would take better houses could they be secured. There are many inquiries for houses but none to meet the demand.

Mrs. Nick Bohn Gets Big Surprise
Members of the Ladies' Circle of the German Liederkreis in their visit to the city last evening on the 6 o'clock street car and tendered Mrs. Nicholas Bohn, president of the Circle, a very delightful surprise party.

The affair was in commemoration of the 24th birthday of Mrs. Bohn, a lady who is cleverly arranged. The ladies took with them a large birthday cake and instead of the candles "Sweet Sixteen" was written on the cake.

Mrs. Bohn was greatly surprised and none present enjoyed the evening more than she. Her daughter, Miss Bohn, presented her with 12 carnations, a sign of her love. The evening was pleasantly spent at various games and music. Several selections were well rendered by Miss Bohn, her daughter and Miss Rose Bohn. Mrs. Bohn is a sister of Harold Bohn and is well known in Connellsville. She is of a very jovial disposition and is a great favorite with the members of the Circle. The guests returned to Connellsville on the last street car.

Reasons for High Fire Insurance Rates in City Blamed On the Water Company and Fire Fighting Equipment.
The Underwriters' Association of the Middle Department of Pennsylvania, in a report presented to the City of Connellsville, has blamed the high fire insurance rates in this city on the water company and fire fighting equipment.

The report states that the water company is not providing sufficient water for fire fighting purposes. It also states that the fire fighting equipment is outdated and inefficient.

The report recommends that the water company be required to provide a certain amount of water for fire fighting purposes. It also recommends that the fire fighting equipment be replaced with modern equipment.

BRAKEMAN MEETS DEATH ON RAILS.
John H. Bundorff Misses Hold and Tumbles Beneath Locomotive.
ARM AND LEG GROUND OFF
Accident Happened Yesterday Afternoon and Death Came Shortly Before 6 O'clock—Extra Brakeman Well Known in Scottsdale.

Attempting to board a fast moving freight train at the Pennsylvania depot here yesterday afternoon, John H. Bundorff, an extra brakeman running out of Youngwood, was run over and so badly injured that he died at the hospital in a few hours. Bundorff had an arm and a leg taken off when he fell beneath a pushing engine.

Mallet Engines Will Pass Through
Between 2.30 and 3 o'clock this afternoon five Mallet type engines, recently completed for the Baltimore & Ohio railroad, will arrive in Connellsville. The engines are coming through from Pittsburgh where they arrived from Buffalo the other day. The big engines are among the largest ever built for freight service and are to be used on one of the divisions of the Baltimore & Ohio railroad. The engines will be in town only a short time. Much curiosity has been expressed to get a look at them.

Special to The Courier.
SCOTSDALE, March 24.—Quick to anticipate the wants of the people of this community the Trustees of the Scottsdale Free Library, donated to the town a few months ago by A. L.
Kelster, have been specializing on some lines. In the opinion of Miss Daisy Mary Smith, the librarian, few libraries are so well supplied with authoritative works of reference and literature on the Bible and corresponding topics. Likewise there has been placed in the library books covering a wide field of science and mechanics.
In the way of specialized reading these branches seem to have the most urgent call from readers of all classes. The religious element is very large in Scottsdale, and likewise its industrial citizenship is numerous. Both these have been well cared for, and appreciation of the books in the library is shown by the great numbers who make use of them.

Those who love nature and in whose minds the desire to get back to the land is burning find in the library a large collection of books on nature and scientific agriculture. Domestic arts, house building and all those things interesting to the home builder are also there.

The fiction reading is likewise heavy and many books are being taken out. The demand for books has continued to grow with steady strength and the gift has proven its worth to the people or perhaps more strictly speaking the people have proven their worthiness and interest to enjoy such a fine donation to the moral and intellectual life of the community.

If Mr. Kelster has entertained any fears that his gift would prove uninteresting all that he needs do is to make a visit to the library any time, for then he will see the library being used by every one, from school boy and girl to the oldest people in town.
And, there are a big number of books being taken home every day for the home folks to read. The library is an unqualified success.

Dorcas Class Lecture.
The Dorcas Bible Class of the Jacobus Creek Methodist Episcopal Church, Rev. P. O. Wagner, pastor, is again showing the stuff it is made of and has arranged for a lecture at their church tomorrow evening. The lecture will be by Rev. J. H. Pershing, D. D., of Greensburg, who will speak on "A Standard for Christian Character or Heroism and Heroines." He is known in the country and elsewhere as a forceful and brilliant speaker, and there promises to be a large crowd present. H. H. Newingham, a well known mill man, is the teacher of the class, which is one of the largest of any of the country churches.

Funeral This Afternoon.
The body of Charles Slesley, the young architect, formerly of here, and who went from Uniontown to Mont Alto, in an endeavor to stay an attack of consumption, was brought here from Mont Alto yesterday. The funeral services took place this afternoon from the home of his sister, Mrs.
George McClain of Guilford avenue, at 2 o'clock in the afternoon. The burial will be in the Scottsdale cemetery.
The only brother, Bert Slesley, is said to have the same disease, and was preparing for treatment at Mont Alto. He was married just a few months ago, and was compelled to give up housekeeping in a short time.
Trouble has fallen heavily upon the family.

Leaving For Carlisle.
Charles E. Albert who came here from Carlisle in March of 1907 to take the management of the Scottsdale independent, when Rev. J. W. Moody, who bought the paper from W. L.
Kelly, gave up the editorship on account of his health, leaves with his family for Carlisle today. Before coming here Mr. Albert had been connected with the Daily Sentinel of Carlisle for 11 years, having learned his trade there. He now returns to his old home to assume charge of the Evening Herald. During his stay in Scottsdale he made many friends, who wish him well in his new place.

More Weather.
The talk of the town is the weather, for in the last week there have been more changes to the old, reliable March winds than a weather vane could follow. It has just been all kinds of 67 varieties. Heinz preserve us, but it's been awful. First storms that have in them something that those on the Sahara desert lack and which ought to be on the garden, have annoyed and blinded people. Snow and rain and wind have also played the center of the stage. This morning a couple of inches of snow covered the ground.

A Spelling School.
There will be a spelling school held at the Reformed Church, Rev. W. J.

CONNELLSVILLE'S
INSURANCE PENALIZATION.

The investigations of the Chamber of Commerce concerning the insurance rates assessed against Conneltsville by the underwriters, have developed some peculiar circumstances, which it seems to us should be remedied.

The penalizations of Conneltsville aggregate 21 cents per $100 insured. They should all be removed by the removal of the causes therefor. The borough seems to be responsible for some of the unsatisfactory conditions and the water company for others. While negotiating the proposed new water contract the Water Committee of the Town Council should see to it that all causes of complaint concerning the water company and its services are eliminated from the situation, and at the same time the general body of the corporate government should take care that all the objections of the underwriters are removed, to the end that we will be able to insure the town against fire losses at a minimum rate.

It is hard to understand how Uniontown is penalized by 13 cents while Conneltsville has 21 cents against her. The water supply of Uniontown is no better than that of Conneltsville, and there is a strong suspicion that it is not as good. The difference may be in the character of the fire-fighting service. We note that the chief item of Conneltsville's penalization is 10 cents "because of the low degree of efficiency found to exist in the paid fire department, which deficiency affects especially to improper housing of the men and lack of suitable quarters for the equipment."

It ought not to require a very great expenditure of money to remedy such conditions as these, and the borough can probably find sufficient funds without any bond issue. This item is perhaps the most readily and inexpensively remedied, and it is the one item on which the borough authorities should at once get busy.

The water company seems to be responsible for another 10 cents of the penalization because of its pumps, pipes and hydrants, and especially because of the fact that there is not a duplicate supply main from the river pumping station to the central points of distribution. The insurance interests object accordingly to this deficiency for the reason that if the main supply line should burst or through any other cause be put out of commission during a fire the losses would be materially swelled. The insurance companies evidently do not consider the water company's two main reservoirs of much importance so far as fire protection is concerned.

It is difficult to understand why the insurance companies assess a penalty of one cent "because the water works system is not owned, controlled and operated by the municipality." It is a well-known unfortunate fact that water plants privately owned are usually better kept up than those publicly owned. The contrary assumption would seem to be a theory rather than a condition.

The Town Council should take up the insurance reports and see if it has endeavored to minimize, if not wholly abolish these penalizations which spell a heavy tax upon Conneltsville property owners.

COUNCILMAN STONER'S PROPOSED GROUND ISSUE.

Councilman Stoner is a useful member of the governing municipal body, but he is not fully cognizant of the law concerning the creation of bonds. He seems to think last night that the borough could create a debt of $18,000 for fire equipment improvement "without the vote of the people."

The Town Council could undoubtedly do so if it were not for the unfortunate fact that the town is now staggering under a load of indebtedness saddled upon it by certain former Democratic administrations which never permitted the law or the Constitution to come between Friends. We heartily second Councilman Stoner's proposition to provide better fire-fighting equipment, but we fear its purchase will have to be deferred until the borough finances are in better shape.

There is an unfortunate disposition on the part of many worthy but short-sighted citizens to insist upon the borough authorities acquiring and operating all manner of public utilities without regard to the financial ability of the corporation to purchase. The Conneltsville Socialists, for example, insist upon the borough buying the water works forthwith, and the Town Council is doubtless entirely willing that its members want to be shown how they can pay the bill. The Socialists with that charming simplicity which characterizes most of their upstart propositions leaves to the authorities the solution of this knotty problem. Their theory seems to be that the government is eternally and that the children have no responsibility concerning the revenues.

The report of the insurance inspector, elsewhere discussed, indicates that the fire department of Conneltsville needs divers improvements, and

A MANEUVER.
Uncle Sam—By the great El Paso This foot of mine takes the dandiest notion to just step over the boulder.

It is hoped that these needed improvements may be effected out of the ordinary revenues of the municipality without the necessity of any bond issue. Conneltsville is now in debt almost if not wholly up to the Constitutional limitation, thanks to former Democratic administrations, and cannot legally issue any more bonds or certificates of indebtedness, certainly not any bonds without the consent of the people at the polls.

Councilman Stoner's proposition for better fire-fighting service will be heartily endorsed by all good citizens, and we will hope that the financial conditions of the borough will soon permit of the acquisition of such service.

In the meantime, we will also hope that Councilman Stoner will not again think of resigning his position. The Town Council needs all its good men.

THE SCHOOL BOARD'S DUTY TO THE FREE LIBRARY.

The Town Council has cheerfully complied with the request of the Library Trustees for the levying of a library maintenance tax of three-fourths of a mill.

The School Board should not be outdone in this respect. The Library is primarily an educational institution and has become a large part of the public school system of Conneltsville. Many good citizens hold the view that it is the duty of the School Board to maintain the Library without the aid of the Town Council, but the agreement was fairly made that both bodies should contribute equally to the support of the Library, and the School Board should on no account or any pretext be less liberal in its support than the Town Council.

Conneltsville should either properly maintain its Free Library, or confess that its public spirit is practically dead, withdraw all support, let the library be closed and the town rest under the imputation of being unprogressive, unenterprising, unfaithful and unkind.

We can hardly think the intelligent members of the School Board will take such a public position.

Notwithstanding the criticisms of the Conneltsville Gazette the citizens of Conneltsville will persist to see Councilman Thomas leave the Town Council, because he is a conscientious member and has not merited the insinuations of the organ aforesaid.

The dog quarantine promises to be expensive.

The Socialists are regular attendants on the Council meetings.

The underwriter's inspector has made a very exhaustive report, if there are further causes for lowering up Conneltsville's insurance rates they evidently couldn't be located with a fine tooth comb.

NO DYSPEPSIA, INDIGESTION, GAS, OR ANY OTHER STOMACH DISTRESS.

Relief in Five Minutes Awaits Every Stomach Sufferer Here.

Nothing will remain undigested or sour on your stomach if you will take a little Diaphepsin occasionally. This powerful digestive and antacid, though as harmless as and pleasant as candy, will dissolve and prepare for assimilation into the blood all the food you eat.

Let what your stomach craves, without the slightest fear of indigestion or that you will be bothered with sour stomach, belching, gas or stomach, heartburn, headache, from stomach, nausea, bad breath, water brash or a feeling like you had swallowed a lump of lead, or other disagreeable interferences. Should you be suffering now from any stomach disorder you can get relief within five minutes.

If you will get from your pharmacist a 50-cent case of Pope's Diaphepsin you could always go to the table with a hearty appetite, and your meals would taste good, because you would know there would be no indigestion or sleepless nights or heartburn or stomach misery all the next day, and besides you would not need laxatives or liver pills to keep your stomach and bowels clean and fresh.

Pope's Diaphepsin can be obtained from your druggist, and contains more than sufficient to thoroughly cure the worst case of indigestion or dyspepsia. There is nothing better for Gas on the Stomach or sour odor from the stomach or to cure a Stomach Headache.

You couldn't keep a handkerchief more useful article in the house.

THE KNIGHT OF THE SILVER STAR

Copyright, 1907, by R. F. Fenno & Co.

A Romance
Of DrussenlandBy Percy
Brebner

HE POINTED APPARENTLY TO THE FORTRESS.

"Tell me first who is this you have with you?"

"He is one of the king's guards now. I brought him back with me. I captured him."

"That's a good beginning to a tale, indeed. You could no more capture him than you can make a fool of me. Is he looking for a good meal too?"

"If you please, Bridget."

"Well, you can have what I've got, which isn't much. You've been over your share of the providing, Dennis, but I've missed the little you did do. Mind, you're not forgiven. I'll feed you, and I'll hear your tale. If the tale doesn't please me, you go, and I'm going to have no more nonsense."

After the meal came the tale. The king had been satisfied with a little compared to what O'Ryan thought necessary to not Bridget's suspicion at rest. But he pleased her not the least by telling her how much he had talked of her to him. This was one of the few truths the whole story had contained, and I willingly indulged it.

The following day I was introduced to my comrades of the king's guard. It chanced that my duties took me to the fortress, and since then, with whom I had to do, had taken a liking to me. I saw more than I should have done in an ordinary way.

As Costa showed me what he was pleased to term some of the things of interest, I did not wonder that O'Ryan spoke of the fortress of Yulassan with respect. There were instruments of torture not on show—not diabolical inventions of the past exhibited for the present to shudder at, but machines which had been used only a few days ago and might be used again tomorrow.

Costa opened a heavy door, and a damp atmosphere met us. He took a key and, going to a slab in one corner of the door, unlocked it and lifted the slab by a ring which was fastened in its center.

"For dead men," he said, pointing down.

A smooth slide went down at an angle, and as I bent over to look I could hear the faint sound of water washing restlessly.

"Into the river," he said.

"Yes. From many of these dungeons there is such an exit. They lead into one big shaft which goes deep into the water under the rock."

"And no out into the river?"

"Sometimes. If the weight attached to the body, to keep it down should slip off the body might rise in the river. I heard of one case. If you should ever cease to be loyal muck-friends with the executioners. They can bungle their work and kill quickly."

Only one ambition had I—to learn the way out of Drussenland. That evening in the guardroom I brought the conversation round to the subject with two or three of my comrades, carefully, of course, not to excite wonder.

"There was the sound of water, I remember," said one. O'Ryan had said the same.

"Running water?"

"No, falling water."

I remembered the waterfall that poor Mustafa and I had started out from. It was to be seen. Could it have anything to do with the entrance to Drussenland?

It was toward the evening of the next day that, being off duty, I wandered toward the lower city in the direction of the northern gate. The sharp clatter of horses' hoofs upon the rough road suddenly disturbed my thoughts. I did not wish to attract attention, so stepped back into the corner of a building. Coming up the street was a knight followed by two of the king's guards. He was a mere strapping fellow, but he set his charger well and made a brave show in his glittering armor. He did not look a formidable opponent, and I could not see a dint upon his harness—that sure trademark of past combats. A carpet knight, still he was young and pleasant to look upon, and I watched him as he came without feeling any particular interest in him. He was almost level with me when he drew rein and waited for the men to overtake him. He pointed apparently to the fortress and asked some question. I could not hear the question nor the answer given, but in turning to speak he gave me a better view of his face. It was familiar to me strangely familiar. I felt convinced that it was not in Tondara that I had seen him, and if not it must have been in the service of the princess. No, he was not one of the knights I had known there. Who was he? What had he come to the city for? In my restless state of mind his advent made me doubly anxious.

I asked no questions, there was no need to, for the news of the stranger's arrival was already known.

"You'll have an opportunity before long, Clinton of repaying your enemies for putting you in prison," said one.

"Oh! How so?"

"A knight, just come to the palace with news."

"From the rebel camp? I saw him passing through the streets. What news does he bring?"

"You're too great a hurry, Clinton. They say the king will not fail, of business tonight, so the news will not be told until tomorrow. Who was the knight? Did you know him?"

"No."

Who was this knight who, coming from the princess' camp, was allowed to enter the city so freely? The not was closing in upon us, and a sickly fear took hold of me.

MINE RESCUE WORK

To Be Put into Practical Operation by Republic Company.

Mine rescue and first aid work are to be put in practical operation by the Republic Iron & Steel Company in Fayette county and to this end a corps of men from the Republic plant have been at the United States Testing Station in Pittsburgh, receiving instruction along the lines mentioned. It is planned to have these men instruct other corps at the Republic plant and thus have a trained body of men ready at a moment's notice to go into a mine with helmets in case of an explosion and also care for injured persons until the arrival of physicians.

This course of instruction for the Republic men is to be carried even further than has been adopted by some other companies and will be thorough and practical. The Draeger or helmet work is being taken so that the men will be able in case of necessity to go into a mine filled with smoke or noxious gases. Each of the men who were in Pittsburgh received a diploma from the government for the rescue work.

It is hoped by the United States government that many other companies in the coke region will take up this work so that in all cases of explosions or mine troubles there will be trained men to take the practical and recognized action for checking the trouble and safeguarding the property and the lives of the men and ministering to the injured.

"The Rosary."

Can one will mind poison a whole household? Is the human brain capable of producing disastrous effects upon a household by adverse suggestive thoughts?

Do we realize adequately how our mental attitude influences our lives and the lives of those about us?

All these questions are asked in

"The Rosary," that comes to the Soloson, midweek and night, Saturday, March 25.

And the answer? Well, the play is the answer.

For one half its course it builds up a condition of affairs in a typical American family of today. The inner life of our member is shown, and there is the subtle feeling produced that all is not right, that one mind is not in full accord with the peace and happiness of the household.

"The Smart Set."

The four famous "Smart Set" company with its capable and acceptable funmakers, vocalists, singers and dancers, headed by Salem Tuit White, is the attraction at the Soloson theatre Monday, March 27. The organization will appear in a brand new and effervescent musical comedy in three acts entitled "George Washington Hillion," written by S. H. Dudley with lyrics by Mr. Whitney himself and music by T. L. Corwell, the production easily assumes precedence over any similar offering seen here.

Shows in some time. Mr. Whitney has been provided with a part suitable to his well known talents, while the supporting cast, a large one, is capable in every department. Foremost in the company are I. Honor Tuit and Daisy Peters Martin, a clever prima donna.
